Answer: C

The Earned Income Credit is a refundable tax credit for low-income taxpayers under Sec. 32. The credit is based on a taxpayer's earned income subject to certain limitations. An individual is eligible for the Earned Income Credit if (s)he has a qualifying child for the tax year or does not have a qualifying child for the tax year and (1) has a principal place of abode in the United States for more than one-half of the tax year, (2) has attained age 25 but not age 65 before the close of the tax year, and (3) is not a dependent of another taxpayer for any tax year beginning in the same calendar year. A qualifying child is one who bears the necessary relationship to the taxpayer, has the same principal place of abode as the taxpayer for more than one-half of the tax year, and meets the requisite age requirements, and one for whom the necessary identification requirements are satisfied. If more than one person has the same qualifying child, then the parent is given priority to claim the credit.
